COMMERCE BOARD SENDS EVIDENCE TO PROSECUTORS OF NEW HAVEN LOOTING

United States District-Attorney Marshall Waits for Word From Washington.

STOCK IS DOWN AGAIN.

New York Grand Jury May Consider Indictments as Result of Report.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—With its unmeasured denunciation of the "maladministration" of New Haven financial affairs and "criminal negligence" of directors, the Interstate Commerce Commission's sensational report on its investigation of the New England Railroad lines was to-day before the Senate Committee working to frame legislation for control of railroad financing, interlocking directorates and other subjects concerned in the investigation.

Administration supporters declared that many of the recommendations of the commission agreed perfectly with portions of President Wilson's trust legislation programme. Certified copies of testimony and exhibits of evidence gathered by the Commission's examiners were on their way by registered mail to-day to district-attorneys in various jurisdictions in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island in which New Haven transactions were carried out. The testimony and exhibits relate to such acts as the Commission has characterized as "corrupt and unlawful" but upon which State officers, if any, must act.

The entire record was sent some time ago to the Department of Justice, where it has been under study by the attorneys in charge of the Government's contemplated dissolution suit.

The next step in New Haven affairs, however, was expected from the Department of Justice. Apart from alleged violations of laws of States and liability of the New Haven's directors, over which Attorney-General McKeen has said the Federal statutes have no control, the department was concerned chiefly in the commission's findings that all the acts characterized as "corrupt and unlawful" were for the purpose of setting up a monopoly in violation of the Federal statutes.

The Department of Justice has taken that view in its dissolution suit against the New Haven system which probably will be filed within the next few days, unless the railroad officials reverse their attitude and accept the terms of peaceful dissolution.

The possibility of any criminal acts

WOMAN BURIES $54,000 IN CASH AND JEWELS?

Police Say She Confesses to Hiding Alleged Plunder of Her Husband Who Was Killed.

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—Mrs. Charles C. Craven, twenty years old, who, the police say, admits she has hidden $54,000 in cash and jewelry alleged to have been obtained by her late husband in several robberies, was arrested here to-day and is held as a suspicious character. Her husband and a companion were killed at Wildwood, Fla., five months ago in a fight with detectives who attempted to arrest them on charges of train robbery and safe blowing.

The police say Mrs. Craven admits burying the money and jewelry near Savannah, Ga., but she will not reveal the hiding place.
